I groaned. "Don't tell me, I know what you're going to say. You were miles from a station, and you thought there might be an emergency case in the rear compartment, so you opened it—and found the dead blonde."

"Yes. That's exactly the way it was. How did you know?"

"I'm a detective," I said heavily. "You know, we can't park here all day. Will you please hurry up and tell me the rest?"

"I looked in back. I saw Sandra Farwell's body—and I almost fainted. My knees got weak, and I felt sick again, and I had to sit down, so I sat on the fender until a truck came along. The driver was nice."

"He let me have a gallon of gas, and I drove to the next filling station, where I had the tank filled. You see, I decided I couldn't go back to New York. Not with the body—and everything."

"Where were you going?"

"To Chicago. I have an aunt there."

"How did you plan to get rid of the body?"

"I thought I'd drive as far as I could—to some place in Indiana, probably—and just leave the car some place. With her in it. Then I was going to take a train the rest of the way."

"I had it all planned, Mr. Smallwood. I was going to wipe my fingerprints off the car, and drive into some unused side road, and leave the car there. They'd never have been able to connect me with her. If I hadn't been hungry, and stopped to eat, I'd—"

"Sure! I spoiled the act," I said. "You still haven't told me who Sandra Farwell is."

"Oh, she's a singer. She used to be in the show at Mr. LaMonte's place, but lately she's been sort of... well, a hothead, I suppose you'd call her."

"Girl friend, you mean?"

"I said drily, 'As I see it, you and Bond went to LaMonte's dive. Someone slipped you a mickey. When you woke up yesterday morning, you were

Cancer Still Big Killer In Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Cancer was Canada's big killer in 1952, claiming almost four times as many victims as all other recorded diseases combined.

In a special report issued Wednesday, the bureau of statistics said the 17,710 cancer deaths compared with 4,773 caused by tuberculosis, polio and 39 other diseases which doctors are required to report to health authorities.

The bureau noted that the 22,485 total for the 42 diseases—mostly cancer—was below the 22,776 caused by the 37 diseases listed 28 years earlier despite a rise of almost three-fifths in population.

Only cancer showed a distinct upward trend in deaths over the years. The increase has been partly the result of more accurate diagnosis.

Blame Placed On Israel

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada, head of the United Nations truce organization in Palestine, Tuesday held Israel at fault in recent border incidents between Israel and Jordan.

in LaMonte's car and the dead blonde was packed in back. You left New York and headed into New Jersey. Did you notice anyone following you?"

"No. Why?"

"Because someone did. The finance company was warned that the car was being taken out of state. They notified my men on the trail. The person who tipped the finance company knew you had the car—they knew, too, that the body was in back. That means they wanted you to be found with the car and the body."

"But— Her green eyes opened wide. 'But oh, no!'"

"Oh, yes," I corrected. "I suppose you know you're in a murder mess, Miss O'Hare?"

"I know I am, and I don't know what to do."

"Frankly, I don't either. Your story isn't so believable. I could drive a truck through some of the holes in it—but I'm inclined to believe it because of the tip the finance company got. I don't like being framed myself, and I don't like to see someone else framed." I looked at her. "Especially a nice girl like you."

"Please, Mr. Smallwood—"

"Tell me what," I interrupted. "Once I snatched a car for the agency and found a live snake coiled on the rear seat. The agency's lawyers said I had a right to take the car, but that the snake belonged to the original owner and had to be returned. Personal property, see? So I boxed the snake and took it back."

"Oh—"

"Right. Now that body reminds me of the snake. Unless some cop stops us and examines that rear compartment, I think the smart thing for us to do would be to take the blonde back to Nick LaMonte. She belonged to him to begin with—and, as far as I'm concerned, he can have her."

"You mean you aren't going to turn me over to the police?"

"You need a spanking more than you do a cell," I said. "I was sent to recover this car. I have done so. There happens to be some personal property in the form of one dead body in it. That personal property I'm going to return practically untouched. We'll let the police and the lawyers fight about the laws involved, and the proper modus operandi. Is that okay with you?"

"Oh, yes!"

"All right," I sat and thought a moment. "Tell you what, Miss O'Hare. It might be better if you drove my roadster into New York. That would save our going into Philly and taking a chance on being stopped. You take my roadster and keep a safe distance behind me. If a cop stops me, make yourself scarce."

I put a cigarette into my mouth and fumbled in my pockets for a match. I couldn't find any. Reaching in front of her, I pulled open the door of the glove compartment on the dashboard.

'Back-Seat-Driver' Tale Fails To Impress

A "back-seat-driver" explanation was given by Peter Mitchell to police investigating an accident at Yates and Douglas about 1 p.m. September 10.

They found him behind the wheel of a car that jumped the sidewalk and struck a lamp standard, but Mitchell claimed one of two men in the back seat had been driving when the crash occurred.

In police court yesterday, as he did in the car, Alex Daniels, 40, told Mitchell was driving.

Police added that this evening Mitchell was driving his son, who said his father was the driver.

Magistrate H. C. Hall found him guilty of being in control of a vehicle while his ability to drive was impaired. He fined Mitchell $250, or 12 days.

Mitchell told the court he had hired Daniels to drive him to Port Renfrew. He claimed he only got behind the wheel to back the car off the sidewalk after the accident.

Daniels testified he was not driving because he had been drinking.

"I had a driver's license 20 years ago, but when I took up drinking I gave up the license," Mitchell stated.

Psychiatric examination was ordered for a 36-year-old man who pleaded guilty to assaulting a four-year-old girl.

Magistrate Hall was told that for half a block he walked along a city street with the child, hitting her on the back with a stick.

child was crying very hard and was obviously very upset and hurt," she added.

Arthur Hicks, 1510 Hillside, was fined $50 or seven days, after he pleaded guilty to a careless-driving charge. Magistrate Hall told the accused he will recommend suspension of his license.

Police stated that about 12:45 a.m. September 8 his car went out of control on Esquimalt Road and struck a power pole and a road sign.

Chanchal Singh, 2809 Nanaimo, and Badoo Singh, 790 Hillside, were fined $10 each, or three days, after pleading guilty to driving trucks with loads that exceeded length limits.

New Stamps

Canada's newest postage stamp, to be issued November 1, will commemorate two former prime ministers of Canada. A purple four-cent stamp (at left) will carry the portrait of Sir John S. D. Thompson in office 1892-94, and Sir Mackenzie Bowell in office 1895-96. It will be shown on a blue five-cent stamp—ICP photo.

Curricula Needs Revision Educator Tells Convention

EDMONTON (CP)—Group national Teachers' Federation, Alberta, said curricula have fallen far behind the needs of the times. A teacher-training group passed a resolution re-affirming its desire for a basic two-year teacher-training program, but urging that until this is attainable, one year's professional training be the "absolute minimum" for initial certification.

Above-average students able to understand complex scientific problems are not provided for in present curricula, he said. Neither are those ready to discuss social-science problems and to study and appreciate art, literature and music.

In addition, 25 per cent of pupils dropping out before completion of high school were of above-average ability—a "waste," he said.

Dr. J. D. Avers of Ottawa, research director for the Canadian Council on Education, said that the curriculum needs of different above-average ability groups were not being met.

Dr. Avers urged challenging research for the "C" and "D" groups, and worthwhile studies for students.

Army Settles Mine Strike

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Striking workers at the Braden Copper Company's big El Teniente mine are being drafted into the Chilean army to work the mine they had refused to go back to voluntarily.

The government also ordered compulsory arbitration of the labor dispute. The workers have been out for 23 days in support of demands for pay increases and other benefits.

West Germans Study Space

STUTTGART (NANA)—West Germany will slip under the allied ban against rocket development by establishing an institute for theoretical space research.

Disclosing this today, Dr. Fritz Gerlach, chairman of the German society for space research, said the institute, located at Stuttgart, will be financed by the Bonn government, the state of Baden-Wuerttemberg and by German industrialists.

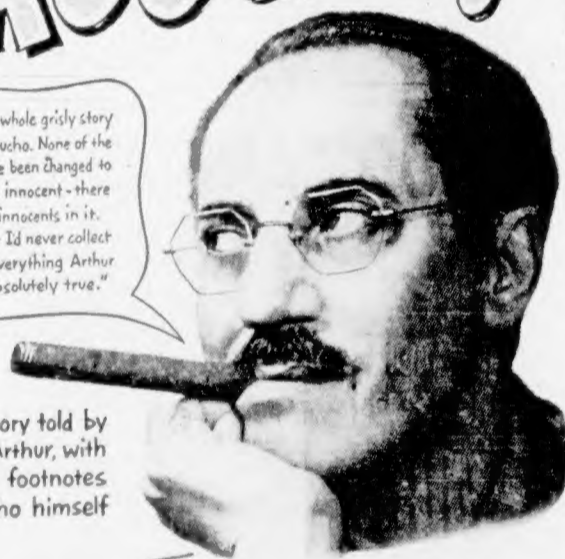

Allied rule does not ban theoretical study of rocket propulsion by the Germans, but Dr. Gerlach said "live" experiments will have to wait lifting of the order against general aeronautical research.

Officials of the space research society indicated they didn't believe this would be run far off. Directorship of the new institute has been offered Dr. Eugen Saenger, one of Germany's foremost rocket experts who helped develop the V-2 weapons which Hitler used against Britain.

KARLSKOOGA, Sweden (Reuters)—A heavy explosion rocked the Rofors armaments work here Wednesday, killing two workers and injuring six. Firemen were unable to approach the scene of the explosion immediately as more blasts were feared.

The one and only GROUCHO!

"This is the whole grisly story of me, Groucho. None of the names have been changed to protect the innocent—there aren't any innocents in it. I'd sue, but I'd never collect because everything Arthur says is absolutely true."

His life story told by his son, with hilarious footnotes by Groucho himself

You've laughed at his movies, howled at his TV shows. Now meet the real Groucho—and roar! Here are all the fun and all the facts: How he got his nickname. Why he and his brothers joined up, then split up. Why he first flopped on radio, then clicked in "You Bet Your Life." Here's an intimate son's-eye view that makes Groucho emerge as far more than just an eyebrow-wiggling clown. So get on your Marx, get set, go—to your newsstand today! And tell 'em Groucho sent you. (He sends everybody.)

QUESTION MARX:

- Why does Groucho sleep with a BB gun next to his bed?
- What did he tell the cop who caught him in his Napoleon suit?
- Why does he always carry a light bulb in his suitcase?
- What are his secrets for insulting diplomats—irritating headwaiters—interviewing room clerks—getting rid of persistent house guests?

He was named Julius after an uncalled "rich" uncle who left him an 8 ball.

Fond of disguises, he once identified himself as a customs form as "smuggler."

Three Marxes on breadstick. But Groucho prefers pumpernickel for one.

Daughter Malinda once topped him by saying, "Daddy, are you dead?"

Athletic pose with son, Arthur. Groucho's favorite sport is "mouth breathing."

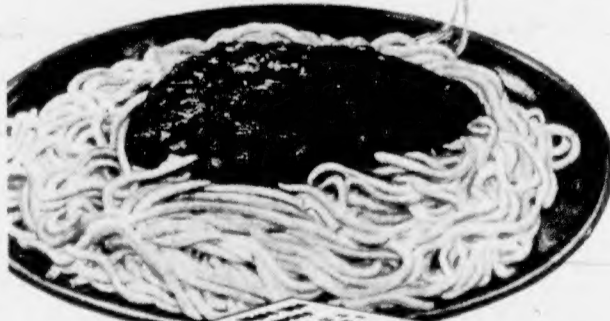

Dining with wife, Eden. He has no use for coalslight as "trick" vegetables.

A Bank is useful in so many ways...

At a bank, you can keep important papers and other valuables in a private safety deposit box.

Travellers Cheques and Letters of Credit provide a safe, handy source of funds when you travel.

A bank helps you do business at a distance: sells exchange, transfers funds, makes collections.

A bank is much more than just a place to cash a cheque or deposit your savings. The many services it provides are designed to help you handle money matters more simply, safely, easily. You will find bank people courteous and efficient in handling routine banking matters and helpful, too, when unusual problems arise. Don't hesitate to "see the bank about it."

Although the authors do not provide a definition of the term "cognitive bias," they do provide a list of 10 cognitive biases that they claim are common in the workplace. These biases are: (1) confirmation bias, (2) anchoring bias, (3) availability bias, (4) overconfidence bias, (5) groupthink, (6) sunk cost fallacy, (7) escalation of commitment, (8) status bias, (9) halo effect, and (10) recency bias. The authors claim that these biases can lead to poor decision-making and that they can be avoided by using a decision-making framework that takes into account the biases.

Early Fall Fashions Shown

Two Routes To Favor For Fabrics

Raincoat fabrics have taken two distinct routes in the early fall season. One is the traditional route of heavy, dark, waterproof materials. The other is the more modern route of lighter, more fashionable fabrics that are treated to be water-resistant.

These fabrics have been treated by various methods, some by chemical processes and some by mechanical means, to give them the desired properties.

Manufacturers are also experimenting with new synthetic materials that offer even greater resistance to water and wear.

The second route is the use of lighter, more fashionable fabrics that are treated to be water-resistant. This allows for more variety in color and pattern, as well as a more comfortable fit.

ELOPER CLAIMS KIDNAPPING

Departing Skipper Gets Warm Send-Off

"Caps off" and a hearty cheer was the send-off crew members of HMCS Ontario gave their skipper, Commodore D. L. Raymond, when he relinquished command of the cruiser yesterday. Commodore Raymond is leaving to take up new duties in Ottawa and has been replaced in the Ontario by Capt. David W. Groos of Victoria.

In picture is station wagon donated to the Queen Alexandra Solarium yesterday from Ontario's ship's company. It is believed to be the biggest contribution to any charity made by a navy ship or establishment since the Second World War. Bulk of the crew is shown in this informal picture.

AS BABY MISSING

Child Ill, May Die

PARIS (AP)—James Goldsmith, a central figure in a runaway romance and tragedy involving an heiress of the Patino tin fortune, reported to police Wednesday night his four-month-old daughter Isabelle has been kidnapped.

The child's mother died at her birth.

Goldsmith, son of a wealthy British hotel owner, said the child had been snatched from a hotel in Versailles.

Goldsmith's wife, Isabella, died of a brain hemorrhage shortly after the child was born by caesarian operation May 14. Isabella, daughter of the Bolivian tin king Atonor Patino, and Goldsmith made headlines early this year when they eloped to Scotland.

WITH MOTHER-IN-LAW

"The child has been with my mother-in-law at a hotel in Versailles," Goldsmith said.

"Today when I went out to see her my baby and her nurse had disappeared with their baggage," Goldsmith said. "I have filed a complaint against an unknown person or persons charging kidnapping."

"The child is in a serious, critical condition and she may die if not properly cared for," Goldsmith said. "She is suffering from anoxia caused by the unusual circumstances of her birth."

MAKES NO GUESS

Later Goldsmith told reporters he didn't want to publicly hazard a guess as to the identity of the person or persons responsible. But he added he wanted to get in touch with his mother-in-law, the Duchess of Cural, and his father-in-law, Atonor Patino.

The duchess is the estranged wife of Patino. She has been engaged in a legal dispute with Patino over the sum of $500,000 which she claims he owes her.

It was learned that Patino and the duchess will ask a Paris civil court Friday to grant them custody of Isabelle. Patino is reported to have claimed the child's father cannot receive proper attention from her father, who is often away on business trips.

The 20-year-old British hotelier married 18-year-old Isabelle Patino last January against the wishes of her father. The couple later made up with the elder Patino.

Five months after their runaway marriage, the lovely, dark-haired bride was found on a balcony in the hallway of her Paris hotel apartment. Taken to a clinic, she gave birth to the daughter and died soon afterward of a cerebral hemorrhage.

NEEDS SPECIAL DRUGS

Restlessly pacing in and down in his office at a luxurious Paris hotel owned by his father, Goldsmith said the circumstances of the child's birth make it all the more important that doctors should be able to give her special drugs.

"I have always shunned publicity in the past but today I appeal to everybody to help me find my little daughter," he said.

Asked whether he had any idea of who might have kidnapped the baby, the young heir replied: "I cannot stick my neck out by advancing any hypothesis about what might have happened to her. I cannot risk being involved in any possible law suit."

"I am going to wait and see what theories the police have on the case before announcing my own."

James Goldsmith, 20, and his 18-year-old bride Isabella, parents of the missing baby, are shown shortly after their headline elopement to Scotland last spring.

Union Predicts Excessive Cuts

Charge that the B.C. Electric Railway Company plans to reduce bus service mileage in Victoria to a far greater extent than advertised, was made by the Street Railway-men's Union at a Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council meeting here last night.

A spokesman for the company denied this suggestion. Marley Collins, public relations officer, said: "It is not true."

Joseph Belton, union secretary, said the union believed the company was making the reduction on base runs and over-all mileage.

Bus operators have refused to sign the new schedules, he said. Their stand means the suggested reduction cannot go into effect until after a union meeting a month from now.

The secretary said the union stood for the public.

Yugoslav-West Link New Long-Range Plan

LONDON (AP)—A long-range British-American plan to bring Communist Yugoslavia into the Atlantic pact was reported being planned Wednesday night.

Diplomatic officials said how Eden accordingly, has named ever that formal action is unlikely to begin before Yugoslavia via and Italy settle their long-standing dispute over the future of Trieste, of the complicated questions relating to British policies toward Germany and the United States.

Both countries are under deterring of the European army plan, Robert takes up his Belgrade post next month.

Britain, informants say, is expected to take the lead in the delicate negotiations that are of state Robert D. Murphy, sure to be involved in bringing Yugoslavia into a direct military relationship with Yugoslav leaders.

Flowers Collected At 10 A.M. Today

Gardeners of Greater Victoria who have offered flowers to the Colonist-sponsored share-the-flowers plan are asked to have their blooms ready by 10 a.m. today when volunteer drivers will begin making collections.

Flowers contributed in today's collection will be distributed among patients in the Veterans' Hospital, the Aged Men's and Aged Women's Homes.

Seeking Plug for Gap

Showdown Talks Study Eden Plan

PARIS (Reuters)—Anthony Eden Wednesday night met with Premier Pierre Mendes-France in showdown talks which will decide the fate of a new British plan to rearm West Germany and so plug the biggest gap in the western defense network.

The British foreign secretary's arrival here is the climax of a five-day tour in which he today to be issued after further talks with the support of West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg, been made. Eden said "the entire, cordial always works for his plan."

Eden was reported to have outlined the results of his diplomatic swing in an opening two-hour session with Mendes-France Wednesday afternoon. They resumed their conversations Wednesday night at the premier's official residence, and further talks are expected to follow.

The two statesmen broke up their meeting shortly after 10 p.m. without a formal statement.

The afternoon meeting will come after Eden has addressed the North Atlantic council in the morning, with Mendes-France presiding as council chairman.

French government quarters waited anxiously for signs of the reception Eden's proposals will get in the French capital, where sentiment against West German rearmament is strongest. They emphasized that the Eden plan will have to contain firm guarantees against runaway German rearmament and pledges of firm British participation to win necessary French approval.

PONTIAC, Mich. (UP)—Glenn Cole, 40, Pontiac, ate six square meals a day to keep two wives from becoming suspicious, the two women said Wednesday when he arraigned on bigamy charges.

"He must have been eating all the time and taking off wedding rings in between," Anna Herrin, 41, Pontiac, told Municipal Judge Maurice Finnegan.

Three other men may have been marked for the same fate, one newspaper said.

Victim of the savage slaying was Daniel Brent, headwaiter at a private liquor club.

His crumpled body was found near the 10th green of the University Golf Course. Three powder-burned bullet holes were found in his head and torso.

One report said the killing was the result of a "war" between two narcotics-selling syndicates.

Police said Brent was shot first in small of the back, then while he was lying on the ground, the murderers fired another bullet into the side of his face. A third bullet ripped through his neck.

Automobile tire tracks leading to the green led police to believe the shooting took place somewhere else in the city and the body was driven to the golf course.

Surprise Plea

DR. A. A. VALDMANIS

'Can Protect Many'

U.S. To Maintain Big Pacific Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dulles said U.S. military plans call for maintaining in the western Pacific "powerful naval and air forces" capable of striking any aggressor.

He described this force as a mighty reinforcement for the new Southeast Asian defense pact which he signed at Manila last week along with representatives of seven other nations interests in the security of the Southeast Asian area.

"The function of these forces," Dulles said, is to keep up the capacity for "striking at any aggressor by means and at places of our choosing."

His report on the Manila conference was recorded for broadcast following his departure for Europe.

"I believe that the Manila pact will in fact, make a substantial contribution to preserve free governments in Southeast Asia and to prevent communism from rushing on into the Pacific area where it would seriously threaten the defense of the United States," Dulles said.

Dulles rejected Soviet complaints against the treaty. He said it is aimed at no nation, only at aggression, he added.

"The fact that the Communists find that objectionable is tragically revealing of their ambitions."

General Myles Murray, who termed the defense plea eloquent, did not oppose it.

The guilty plea was a surprise to all in the courtroom. Valdmanis, arrested April 23, had previously pleaded not guilty to both charges and a special session of Supreme Court had been called for next Tuesday with a double-panel jury to hear the case.

Mr. Higgins asked for leniency on the grounds that his client had a clean record, a brilliant reputation, and a large family to support and "the guilty plea alone is quite a punishment for a man of his background."

"For all practical purposes the man is completely finished."

The crown's only request was for an "enlargement of motion" on the second charge. This postpones that case pending instructions from the attorney general's department.

Brent is reported to have had a police record in Edmonton some 18 years ago, but there is no indication that he had been in trouble with police for several years.

He was vice-president of the Club and Cabaret and Construction Camp Culinary and Service Employees' Union here.

Separated from his wife, he lived alone in a roominghouse in a good residential district. His neighbors said Brent was a "nice fellow" who had few visitors.

Valdmanis Admits Fraud of $200,000

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—The man who engineered Newfoundland's post-confederation development program for $25,000 a year, pleaded guilty Wednesday to defrauding the government of $200,000.

Dr. Alfred A. Valdmanis dropped his head in the prisoner's box in Newfoundland Supreme Court and in a hoarse whisper told Chief Justice Sir Alfred Walsh: "My plea is guilty, your honor."

Then he swallowed hard, blinked several times and repeated his plea in a louder tone. He will be sentenced Friday.

The 47-year-old native of Latvia who served from 1950 to early this year as Newfoundland's director-general of economic development faces another charge, that he defrauded the government of $200,000.

He pleaded not guilty to this second charge which was deferred indefinitely. There was no indication immediately what will become of it.

Defense counsel Gordon Higgins told court Valdmanis' assets total about $568,000 and made a half-hour plea for mitigation of sentence. Submitter

'War' of Drug-Selling Syndicates Hinted After Gangster-Style Killing in Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 43-year-old labor union official and ex-convict was shot to death Wednesday by "gangster-style" killers who left his bullet-punctured body on a golf course.

Victim of the savage slaying was Daniel Brent, headwaiter at a private liquor club.

His crumpled body was found near the 10th green of the University Golf Course. Three powder-burned bullet holes were found in his head and torso.

One report said the killing was the result of a "war" between two narcotics-selling syndicates.
